"STEP DOWN AND GET CLEAR OUT"

Is To Be America's Command To Huerta.

UNCLE SAM AND GREAT BRITAIN

May Recognize Belligerency Of Rebels—Huerta Must Explain Two Deaths.

TAMPICO NOW HELD BY REBELS

Washington, May 16.—These significant developments occurred in the Mexican crisis to-day:

The State Department indicated that it will make no terms with Huerta—in other words, no "conditional" retirement will be acceptable to the United States.

The State Department also said that the action of the British Admiral, Sir Christopher Cradock, and his entire staff in making a formal call on the Constitutional, General Gonzales may be regarded as a recognition by Great Britain of the belligerency of the Constitutionalists. A similar step on the part of the United States is expected in a few days.

The failure of Huerta to explain the fate of Correspondent Doster and Private Parks has brought about a situation so acute that orders for the embarkation of more troops at Galveston for Vera Cruz are expected at any moment.

The opinion of the Administration is that Huerta is in no position to dictate terms to anybody. He must get out, and in getting out must sever his connection entirely with the administration of Mexico's affairs.

The belief of the President and his most capable advisers is that Huerta will hold on a little longer and that he already has made his arrangements to leave Mexico.

General Huerta's three representatives to the mediation conference, to open at Niagara Falls, Canada, next Wednesday, arrived here to-day direct from Mexico City. They are clothed with plenary powers.

Meanwhile the urgent representations made by President Wilson and Secretary Bryan to the Huerta Government, through the Brazilian Minister at Mexico City as to the reported execution of Private Samuel Parks, who strayed through the Mexican lines, was partly relieved by a message from Mexican Foreign Minister Ruiz to the Spanish Ambassador, Mr. Riano, stating that the Parks incident would be immediately investigated. Beyond this Secretary Bryan had no information on Park's disappearance.

Both the Brazilian Minister at Mexico City and General Funston, at Vera Cruz, have received word that Parks was summarily executed and his body mutilated, but they have not been able to confirm these reports.

Official reports through the day showed the Constitutionalists rapidly extending their field occupation. Council Canada, at Vera Cruz, reported them in possession of Tuxpan, the important east coast town with extensive oil industries, only a few miles from Lobos Island, which has been a bone of contention between the Huerta lighthouse keeper and the American naval officers, who sought to keep the light burning.

Tampico, now in full control of the Constitutionalists, was reported by Admiral Mayo to be resuming its normal condition, with foreign properties protected, and the Constitutional commander, General Gonzales, exchanging informal calls with the American and British Admirals.

12,000 DAILY PLAN SUICIDE IN CHICAGO

Chicago, May 16.—Twelve thousand persons are daily contemplating suicide in Chicago, according to the deductions made from Coroner Hoffman's figures by Psychologist Parker H. Sarcomb. Of this number about six hundred annually kill themselves. "One thousand attempt self-murder," says the Coroner, "but four hundred recover." Sarcomb's law of moment is quoted by the psychologist to support his analysis of the Coroner's figures. He says:

"So uniform is the operation of the natural law which controls the fate of mankind that we know under the present conditions that in 1914 and until new educational systems have had a chance to take effect, about 150 will commit suicide by poison, of whom 90 will use carbolic acid, 15 corrosive sublimate, 7 cyanide of potassium, 6 arsenic, &c.

"While it is impossible to name the unfortunates, we know, too, that with the present population and until our social, economic and educational systems undergo fundamental change, each year approximately 140 will commit suicide by shooting, 120 by asphyxiation, 60 by hanging, 24 by stabbing, 20 by drowning and 14 by jumping out of windows."

MEDIATORS ARE NOW ON WAY TO NIAGARA FALLS

Washington, May 18.—President Wilson to-day told the American Commissioners, who leave to-morrow for the mediation conference at Niagara Falls, Ont., that the United States Government regards the settlement of the Mexican problem in a definite form as a prerequisite to the withdrawal of the American forces from Vera Cruz.

The President gave the American Commissioners—Justice Lamar, of the Supreme Court of the United States; Frederick W. Lehman, former Solicitor General, and Diplomatic Secretary H. Percival Dodge—no specific instructions. He told them to place themselves in a receptive mood and await proposals from the three South American mediators.

Gen. Huerta has authorized his Mediation Conference delegates to submit his resignation, in case such a course is found necessary to a settlement in peace negotiations.

Constitutionalists do not receive with favor suggestion of Huerta's resignation and selection of compromise provisional president. They say their campaign is daily growing more aggressive, and that in another month they will have taken forcible possession of Mexico City.

FATHER OF NINETEEN CHILDREN PASSES AWAY

Central City, Ky., May 16.—The Rev. Joseph H. Hays, a pioneer resident of the county and for the last ten years a resident of Central City, died yesterday evening of tuberculosis. He was a retired minister of the Northern Methodist church and an old soldier. He was the father of nineteen children, only five of whom are living, he having buried ten after they had reached manhood and womanhood, and four as small children. He is survived by his wife.

SPLENDID INNOVATION BY A MINING COMPANY

Barbourville, Ky., May 18.—The Wisconsin Steel Company, subsidiary to the International Harvester Company, and owners of the town of Benham, Harlan county, and the $2,000,000 coal and coking plant at that point, has introduced an innovation by offering cash prizes for the best kept lawns and premises in the mining town. A cash prize of $250 is offered for the best kept lawn in Benham during the summer season. The town, established two years ago, now has a population of 3,000 and is the center of the Harlan coal trade.

AGE 91, FEELS LIKE 50; SO HE WEDS AGAIN

Waco, Texas, May 16.—J. H. Alexander, aged 91 years, general dry goods merchant of Patton, this county, obtained a marriage license to wed Mrs. S. E. Bradley, aged 61. Alexander's first wife died two months ago. The marriage license was presented as a gift from the County Clerk. Alexander declares he is strong physically as a man of 50.

"ROOSTER DAY" TO BE OBSERVED

For the Benefit Of Egg Production.

MAY 23 IS THE DATE NAMED

All Poultry Raisers Should Sell, Kill Or Confine The Roosters.

CHICKEN KEEPERS READ THIS

We publish below a communication from Mr. Rickey, State Agent in Poultry Club Work:

Because roosters are allowed to run with laying hens during warm weather, $15,000,000 worth of eggs are lost to the farmers throughout the United States each year; and most of this loss occurs during June, July and August. For this reason raisers of poultry are earnestly asked and urged to kill or sell all matured males or confine them in pens away from the laying hens during the summer. Eggs that are laid by hens not mated are sterile or infertile, and do not decay. The fertilized eggs spoil very quickly when subjected to the influence of heat, and if they are left too long in the nests or under broody hens or are left in any warm place, the germ cells begin to develop and the chicks begin to grow. These growing cells may die at any stage of development, due to unfavorable conditions.

Whether the embryo dies or not, the egg is useless as food and is unfit for market. If the wives of the farmers would once realize how much money they practically lose by allowing the roosters to run with the layers, they would immediately stop the practice. Not one egg more is produced with a male running with a flock of hens than without one, and unless the roosters are valuable as breeders, it is far better to dispose of them at the end of the breeding season and replace them with the younger stock the following spring. If we follow this plan we can always have good, strong, vigorous cockerels (young roosters) for breeders, and at the same time get rid of the care of non-producers. Let us at least make the most of what we possess.

In order to have concerted action in this matter the Poultry Department of the United States Government has designated the 23d day of May to be known among poultry raisers as "Rooster Day." Then kill, sell or confine the rooster.

Note—The well known poultry buyers who are members of the Southern Poultry and Egg Shippers Association have agreed to pay a higher price for roosters on that day.

SYMPATHY OF NATION EXTENDED TO MOTHER

Pittsburg, Penn., May 16.—After the funeral to-day of Francis Patrick DeLowry, Pittsburg sailor who was killed at Vera Cruz, Vice President Marshall, who had participated in the ceremonies, visited the parents of the dead seaman in their little home.

Gently grasping the hand of the grief-stricken mother, the Vice President said:

"I have dared to intrude upon your grief that I might voice the sympathy of the republic with you in your lonely hour. I congratulate you upon the honor of being the mother of such a man."

"There are only three things worth while to die for—the glory of God, the preservation of the home and the honor of the flag. If he was to die, I doubt if he would have chosen another death. Nothing can take his place in your heart, but I hope it cheers a little for you to know that the nation blesses you as it reverences your son. May the God of our fathers keep you within His holy guard."

The Vice President addressed the members of the Pittsburg Publicity Association at a banquet to-night.

THE MOVIE MAN VILLA'S DICTATOR

Plans Battles For Daylight Shows.

VILLA VIOLATED AGREEMENT

And the Motion Picture Man Then Called Him Sharply To Time.

FIGHTS ARE STAGED TO ORDER

Washington, May 16.—A story has just reached Washington about the activities in Villa's army of a moving picture operator who is represented as a marvel in his line. According to reports received the moving picture operator fought his way into the good graces of Villa and now it is said the two are close friends, the movie man having full permission to take films and the rebel general reaping a rich harvest out of the concession.

The moving picture operator is said to play an important role in the councils of war held preceding engagements in which Villa commands. When the operator first attached himself to the rebel army he found it difficult to convince Villa that he and his business should have consideration. Villa was willing from the beginning to permit the operator to make reels, but the movie man was not satisfied.

Villa and the operator came near having a rough and tumble fight a few days before Torreón was attacked. The rebels were about to make an attack on Gomez Palacio. Villa planned this engagement for the night time. When this information came to the ears of the picture man he ran amuck in the rebel camp. He was at once admitted to the presence of the commanding general.

There was a showdown between the operator and Villa. The picture man in language said to have been very violent, told Villa that the time had arrived for somebody to get off and that speaking for himself he had no intention of getting off at that moment. He told Villa that good moving pictures could be made only in daylight and he wanted to know why the commanding general had deliberately planned to stage what might prove to be the principal engagement of the war, after sundown.

Villa commanded the operator to hold his peace, threatening punishment, but the movie man, who is represented as a person of explosive temper, proceeded. The upshot of the affair, it is said, was that the operator had his way and an agreement was reached that whenever possible Villa should stage his battles in the day time under conditions favorable for the making of moving pictures.

ENGLISH PEOPLE AFTER KENTUCKY COAL LANDS

Evansville, Ind., May 13.—That he intends to take leases on 400,000 acres of coal land in Western and Central Kentucky for an English syndicate was the statement to-day of C. N. Coupland, of London, England, who for several days past has been taking options on coal lands in Kentucky near this city.

It is believed the syndicate he represents intends to enter into active competition with the Deep-Water Coal Company, of Pittsburg, Pa., which recently took options on coal properties in Western Kentucky. Mr. Coupland says the syndicate he represents is preparing to spend $20,000,000 in the development of Western Kentucky. He says the coal will be shipped from here by river to New Orleans, bound for South American ports.

Aged Vice Pres. at New York, May 16.

New York, May 16.—Levi P. Morton, former Vice President of the United States and former Governor of New York State, to-day celebrates his ninetieth birthday anniversary at his country home, Ellerslie, at Rhinebeck, N. Y.

ASYLUMS OVERCROWDED—WRONG PATIENTS SENT

Frankfort, Ky., May 18.—Crowding of the State hospitals has reached such a point that the State Board of Control is seriously considering the necessity of refusing admission to people committed to the institutions.

Lakeland has 1,600 inmates, 100 more than its normal capacity; Hopkinsville has 1,200, although its capacity is only 1,100, and Lexington has 1,250, which is 150 more than it can satisfactorily take care of. The dormitories are overcrowded, and every foot of available room is utilized as quarters for the inmates. It is said counties are emptying their almshouses of harmless weak-minded people into the institutions, victims of the drug and liquor habits are declared insane and sent there, and the increase is greater than the number of those restored and sent home and those that die.

HOWELL SELECTED FOR OWENSBORO POSTMASTER

Washington, May 16.—Representative A. O. Stanley has recommended the appointment of Ernest J. Howell to be Postmaster of Owensboro. In selecting Mr. Howell for this position Mr. Stanley solved a troublesome patronage problem. Among the candidates for the postmastership was G. A. Jett, Mr. Howell is Democratic committeeman of Daviess county and is a warm personal friend of Mr. Stanley. His nomination is expected to be sent to the Senate in a few days.

THE WILL OF MR. MAYO LEAVES ALL TO WIFE

Paintsville, Ky., May 16.—Although the will of the late John C. Mayo, has not been made public, it is known that he has left his entire estate to his wife, who is made joint executor with John Buckingham without bond. Buckingham was selected by Col. Mayo to carry on the development work in Eastern Kentucky, and will be aided by ex-Congressman Slem. The estate of Mayo is estimated to be worth between four and five millions selling value, but with far greater potential value if lands are held and developed.

SIX-MILE RAILROAD AND BRIDGE SOLD FOR $10,000

Barbourville, Ky., May 16.—A working force will be assembled next week to remove the Coalport railroad, a six-mile coal-carrying line extending from this city to the Coalport coal field. The entire line, including a $20,000 steel bridge across the Cumberland river, was sold to a local dealer for less than $10,000. The line has been in operation about fifteen years and an immense coal tonnage has passed over it. Working out of the coal measures in the Coalport field destroyed the traffic of the road.

The steel bridge has been bought by Bell county and will span Yellow creek, it is stated.

Frank Stivers Dead.

Frank Stivers, for many years a well known citizen of Owensboro, died at Little Rock, Ark., Sunday afternoon. Two years ago Mr. Stivers was stricken with paralysis, and this was directly responsible for his demise. He had been desperately ill for several weeks, and his death did not come unexpectedly.

Mr. Stivers was forty years old. He is survived by his widow and one brother, J. C. Stivers, of Owensboro. Two sisters, Mrs. Mary Tanner and Miss S. S. Stivers, also survive him.

Not a single illegitimate child was found in Earlinton by the school census just taken there. This means that out of 650 children over 10 years old, every one can read.

INSULT TO STATE, CLAIMS LAFFOON

Game Of "Freeze-Out" Is Being Played

BY BIG INSURANCE COMPANIES

Large Risks Are Being Covered, But Small Ones Embarrassed.

MORE INFORMATION PROMISED

Frankfort, Ky., May 16.—Claiming that the fire insurance companies doing business in Kentucky are playing a game of "freeze-out," Ruby Laffoon, chairman of the State Insurance Board, has prepared a letter to the members of the General Assembly.

He calls attention that "There is no notable change in the game of 'freeze-out' being attempted by the insurance companies against the people of Kentucky, neither is there any famine in insurance nor any undue excitement or uneasiness among the people, in spite of the wild efforts of the insurance press and a few insurance agents to stir up something."

"The insurance press realizes that it is a hard job to coerce all the companies into obeying the orders of the larger companies. This is borne out by the fact that many companies supposed to have suspended business are issuing policies freely on whiskey and other large lines through brokers but still prohibiting their local agents from protecting the rank and file of the property owners, with a view of embarrassing a large number of such in a last effort to have the agitation against the State officials kept up by the commercial bodies of the State."

He calls attention to the demands of the companies and, in conclusion says:

"It is an insult to the people of Kentucky, a reflection on the integrity of your officials and on the intelligence of your people. We do not believe that you would have us humble the honor of the State and drag it in the dust of humiliation by yielding to the autocratic demands of this greedy hoard of corporate capital—so closely allied and organized that they can attempt such a deal on our good State in order to thwart the efforts of other States to do what the highest court in the land has ruled they have a perfect right to do."

"It will be remembered that we had to take advantage of the right given under the law to get at the information regarding the makeup of insurance rates by demanding that our representative be given access to the records of the Kentucky Actuarial Bureau, the rate-making organization of the allied companies. The information obtained made it very clear as to why the companies opposed making public these records."

"We will address you in the next few days and give you some information on this point which you will find interesting."

WITNESSES AMPUTATION OF BOTH OF HIS LEGS

Denver, May 16.—"Go to it, Doc! Saw 'em off way up above those hunk knees! That's it! Good boy, Doc! Say, but that's some neat job!"

William Dunn sat in an operating chair at the county hospital and smilingly watched the amputation of his two worthless legs, as he talked.

That he was able to take a directing part in the operation was due to the use of local anesthetics.

"Now I can get out and earn my own way," Dunn chatted on, while the surgeon was busy with the knife and saw.

The surgeon who performed the successful operation on Dunn's legs has fitted up a crude wheeled chair for his patient to use in selling papers when the leg stumps heal.

Dunn suffered from locomotor ataxia twelve years.

MANIFEST DESTINY THING OF FUTURE

But Certainty Of It Seems Assured.

REGION BETWEEN RIO GRANDE

And Isthmus Will Probably Some Day Belong To United States.

CALM STUDY OF SITUATION

Henry Waterson has not permitted the rumor of Paris to interfere with sending home the prediction that the time will come when the United States will control all the territory from the Rio Grande to the Canal Zone.

Such a prediction from a prominent American citizen may have the effect of making the Powers somewhat more firm in their belief that this country is not unwilling to extend its territory, but only ignorant nations can interpret the Administration's acts as a movement toward that end.

It certainly is the policy of the Government at the present time to acquire no new territory. No more made or contemplated has any other than preserving national dignity and restoring peace in a country that is engaged in a war which seems to be endless.

If the United States should acquire Mexico in time of peace, with the unanimous consent of her people, the population would be of doubtful good, and certainly the greatest benefit would be to the people of that country. But whatever the advantages or disadvantages it is certain that no such thing is contemplated by any great number of American statesmen at this time.

In spite of this, however, there is a possibility that Col. Henry Waterson's prediction may prove true. Mexico has made no progress in government. Under the iron rule of Diaz there was peace, but there was little advancement with the masses. They were held in a state of physical and intellectual bondage. Under such conditions they could not advance. For a time such a rule seems for the best, because a very ignorant class of people are better off even in physical bondage than in liberty, but when such is the case, intellectual development is at a standstill. The first stages of complete liberty may be very bitter, but they are the fires through which some nations must pass before they can reach the high plane of civilization.

The fact that Mexico has made such little progress indicates that it may yet be many years before she will be capable of self-government. If it should appear that the result was not attained within anything like reasonable time, this country might be forced to take over the republic, and with it all territory this side of the Canal Zone.

But even if a change of policy comes, it will not be through any desire for new territory. It will be because the United States is forced to take control of the country in order to prevent endless war which would menace the possessions she already has.

Mexico, as a peaceful republic, populated with an industrious and intelligent people, would be almost as valuable to the United States as if it were a State of this Union, and that is the end hoped for. This is, of course, carrying speculation far into the future, because the Mexican people are not any too industrious, and it will require at least a generation to teach them the importance of thrift, economy and education.

The country contains millions of acres of fertile lands, and a great area is suitable for truck farming. Settled by farmers who understand the business, it would carry millions of wealth. Such a country and trade with the United States would be immense.

This result cannot be hoped for until Mexico produces statements who recognize that the greatest victories are those of peace—Glad the strength of a nation is not in its armies, but in the production of the necessities of life—and that in this age no nation can long stand divided into two extreme classes.

In all probability, if the United States extends the boundary line to include Mexico, it will be long after this country is made poorer by the loss of Henry Waterson. But there is indeed a possibility that people now alive will live to see the American flag permanently flanking in the borders of Mexico, whose sixteen million citizens may be forced by conquest into the blessings of liberty.—[Ft. Worth, Tex., Telegraph.]

OPPORTUNE DROPPING OF A NEEDLESS ISSUE

The Baltimore platform on which Mr. Wilson was elected to the Presidency favored Presidential primaries "throughout legislation in each State." And the National Committee was directed in its call for the convention of 1914 to require the party organization in States where necessary to conduct primaries of its own.

The President has now given up his plan of getting a Nation-wide Presidential Primary law through this session of Congress. He is well advised in doing so. It is not called for by the platform. It is not called for by any settled body of party opinion. Hardly any two men among the recognized leaders of the party are agreed upon just what should be done by Congress. If anything is done, the President himself has never ventured to detail a plan.

It would therefore be most unwise to force upon Congress and the party so nebulous a question at such a time of crowding events as this. Through State legislation the Presidential primary is spreading broadly. "The next Presidential contest is still two years away, and provision has been made for party expressions of preference in States that have not acted. This is enough for now."—[New York World.]

Biliousness and Constipation.

For years I was troubled with biliousness and constipation, which made life miserable for me. My appetite failed me. I lost my usual force and vitality. Pepsin preparations and cathartics only made matters worse. I do not know where I should have been to-day had I not tried Chamberlain's Tablets. The tablets relieve the ill feeling at once, strengthen the digestive functions, purify the stomach, liver and blood, helping the system to do its work naturally.—Mrs. Rosa Potts, Birmingham, Ala. WHERE WALNUT TIMBER IS USED VERY COMMONLY

Notwithstanding the rarity and expensiveness of walnut timber nowadays, there is one farm in Kentucky which can boast not only of its barns and tenant houses being built of walnut, but even the fences on the place are constructed of this valuable wood. This is the Coghill farm, located in the Shaker Bend section of Jessamine county, about twenty-five miles south of this city. The larger part of this tract was formerly a vast walnut forest, and a considerable quantity of the walnut timber yet remains, the owners of the place cutting it only for domestic use. Thousands of dollars worth of this valuable timber has accordingly been cut in past years for this purpose, and not only the tobacco barns and tenant houses, but even the fences have been constructed of rich black walnut, which if sent to the furniture factories of the North would have yielded the owners of the place a handsome fortune. There is perhaps not another farm in Kentucky on which so much valuable timber can yet be found, despite this prodigality.—[Lexington Leader.]

ACCOMMODATING EEL HELPED TO STRING FISH

Cadiz, Ky., May 9.—John, the 11-year-old son of Henry Freeman, who lives near here, caught a twenty-four-pound catfish in Little river a few days ago in a very peculiar way. He had put out a throwline and an eel got on one of the hooks, and soon after this the large catfish came along and attempted to swallow the eel, but the eel went in the fish's mouth and out through one of its gills, thus holding the large fish tightly "grung," although the hook was not in it in any manner. The boy had to call some of the farm hands to help him land his catch, which was one of the largest fish ever caught in Little river at this place.

IMMENSE POWER OF OUR BIG GUNS

Masses Of Metal Move Faster Than Sound.

FORCE IS TREMENDOUS ONE

Interesting Photographs Taken Showing Flight Of Big Projectiles.

MARKSMAN'S AIM IS ACCURATE

Those who doubt the power of the equipment of our army should read the article by Cleveland Moffett in McClure's magazine on the guns used in our coast defenses. He shows that there are harbors on our coast where, through the guns and mortars, we could concentrate within a few yards a rain of projectiles weighing fifty tons, one every minute. The guns used are marvellously powerful instruments and similar ones are used in all branches of the army and navy.

According to Moffett, the shell from one of the big guns fired in the coast defenses reaches the spot for which it is intended before the sound of the explosion of the powder reaches there. That is to say, these great masses of metal move through the air faster than sound. They travel at the rate of twenty-five miles a minute. They could reach Chicago from New York at that rate in one hour.

Mr. Moffett's article deals with the experiments made by Captain F. L. Behr, of the coast artillery corps, in attempting to get photographs of the shells as they leave the mouth of the mortars. Capt. Behr worked for many years in perfecting a camera which will move so rapidly that such a photograph may be taken, and he has finally taken a photograph in which the exposure has been reduced to one ten-thousandth of a second. The apparatus is controlled by electricity. Some of the photographs were taken even after the explosion reached the ears of the gunners standing nearest to the mortar.

These photographs show the firing of the shot in all its stages. There is one with the muzzle surrounded by a sort of halo. This was taken after the explosion, but before the shell or any of the gases had reached the gun's muzzle, and the halo-like figure is caused by the compression of the air because of the coming projectile. Another photograph shows the projectile just leaving the cloud of smoke with which it is surrounded as it leaves the gun. When it is understood that this projectile weighs half a ton and will reach its destination ten miles away in less than half a minute, the extraordinary speed of the camera can be appreciated.

Notwithstanding the size of the projectile and the speed with which it moves, and the space over which it travels, a gun-pointer who would miss a moving target by ten yards at a distance of five miles would be considered unfit to hold his position. Of course, it is rare for the gun-pointer to see the object at which he is shooting. His instructions are given to him over a telephone and he sets his gun in accordance with the instructions.

The projectile, when hurled by the mortar into the air, rises to a height of four or five miles before it begins to drop. Imagine being hit by a half ton of metal falling four miles! Projectiles fired straight ahead by ordinary guns sometimes skip after hitting the water, like a rock, but their skips are a mile or so apart.

The pressure of the explosion in the gun amounts to forty thousand pounds to the square inch. No engine known can even approximate the force released by the explosion of this smokeless powder. And the heat generated is enough to melt a diamond. The gun barrels, to stand such a strain, have to be made of a series of concentric steel hoops, shrunk so that they fit into one another. If the outer steel jackets of the guns were released, the inner ones would blow themselves to atoms because of the reaction from the compression by which they are held in place. No wonder that a 11-inch gun will stand no more than 450 rounds of ammunition before it has to be retired.

NEW ISLAND HAS SPRUNG UP SUDDENLY IN JAPAN

The recent volcanic disturbances in Japan have not only caused the face, but also, apparently, the foundation of the earth to suffer. It is reported in the Japan Herald (Yokohama) that the Sakurajima eruption was accompanied by a volcanic eruption about three nautical miles to the east of South Sulphur Island. The disturbance occurred about 3 p. m. of February 23. On the 23rd a new island began to emerge from the ocean. At the time the report was dispatched the height of the new island was about one thousand feet and its circumference about five miles. The summit of the island is a crater and lava and ashes are still being erupted in large quantities.

In connection with the report, Mr. Sato, lecturer of science, is quoted to the effect that in 1904 an island, two hundred feet in height, emerged from the ocean near Sulphur Island, but it had been practically washed away before he could reach the spot to carry out investigations, only small rock points being visible above the surface of the ocean. The birth of the new island is in no way connected with the eruption of Sakurajima, this series of volcanoes belonging to the Fuji group. The disturbances, however, were co-incident.

MEANS LISTEN VERY EAGERLY TO THE GOSPEL

"The largest congregation of hearers I ever preached to listened eagerly to three sermons in succession at Fort Bliss one afternoon last week," writes J. H. Fitzgerald. "They were prisoners of the United States, but seemingly happy so far as their physical condition was concerned—in soldiers' tents, comfortable cots to sleep on, plenty to eat and nothing to do.

"There were perhaps two thousand of them, men, women and children standing in hot sun as close as they could be packed against the wire fence that enclosed them, while Athana, a Nazarene, Montezuma and myself talked to them from a platform on the outside.

"Hungry for the Word of Life, does not express it. I spoke last, and asked them if they were tired. 'No, no, no,' they cried. 'Talk to us.' After the services we distributed hundreds of tracts, gospels and testaments. Never did started animals show more avidity for physical food than did they for the spiritual. They almost trampled upon each other to get it. When the supply was exhausted they begged for more. Curious visitors to the camp stood transfixed with amazement, and filled with sympathy at the sight. But I can't describe it."

Rheumatism Quickly Cured.

"My sister's husband had an attack of rheumatism in his arm," writes a well known resident of Newton, Iowa. "I gave him a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment which he applied to his arm and on the next morning the rheumatism was gone." For chronic muscular rheumatism you will find nothing better than Chamberlain's Liniment. Sold by all dealers. m (Advertisement)

FATHER AND TWO OTHERS DEBAUCHED LITTLE GIRL

Xenia, Ohio, May 14.—Fifteen minutes consideration of the evidence submitted to it at a special session called for the purpose of investigating the story told by fourteen-year-old Carrie Shull, of two years of virtual slavery in which she was held; was all the grand jury required to-day, to indict Wiley Kennon, Village Marshal of Cedarville; Elmer Shull, the girl's father, and Minor Eaton, a young farmer, for alleged criminal offenses against the girl. Kennon was released on $1,000 bond. The others are in jail.

WHAT HARTFORD PEOPLE SEEK

Found By a Hartford Man, Who Tells His Experience.

What the anxious sufferer from kidney and bladder trouble seeks is not temporary relief—though that would be welcome enough; what is sought for is a lasting effect. Mr. King, of Hartford, tells us here how he has found lasting good from Doan's Kidney Pills after long suffering.

S. L. King, proprietor Hardware store, Hartford, Ky., says: "I had pains across my back and finally I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. They certainly helped me. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills highly to anyone in need of a medicine for disordered kidneys."

Mr. King is only one of many Hartford people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you—don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. King had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. THE DOG OR THE SHEEP, WHICH?

Importance of the Matter Contrasted.

DOG STANDS BETWEEN FARMER

And His Profits On Wool—Responsible For High Cost Of Living.

THE DOG PERIL A COMMON ONE

Herbert Quick, editor of Farm and Fireside, the national farm paper published at Springfield, Ohio, begins an important series of articles in the current issue of his paper entitled "The Dog or the Sheep, Which?" Mr. Quick says that man's faithful friend, the dog, is the most expensive animal in the United States. The dog, and the dog alone, stands between the farmer and the profits from sheep and he alone is responsible for a good deal of the high cost of living in the matter of clothing and meats. Mr. Quick has made a thorough investigation of the subject and intends to submit for the consideration of farmers generally, and of such members of legislatures as may read it, a consensus of opinion of many farmers in the United States on this question.

The importance of the dog peril will be recognized when people find out what dogs have been doing in the United States. In his first article Mr. Quick gives a picture of the perils of one of the basic industries of the world caused wholly by the ravages of dogs. Mr. Quick adds that people interested in the sheep business, may well bring these facts before their legislatures. The testimony of a dozen or fifteen important sheep raisers is adduced. Several show that dogs have almost put a stop to the sheep business. A Pennsylvania breeder writes as follows:

"In our county the dogs have done more to drive the sheep out than the legislation in regard to free wool has done. The fear of dogs makes a great many men sell their sheep, and keeps others from going into sheep husbandry. I could name perhaps twenty flocks of registered sheep which have been scattered by dogs."

In the course of his article Mr. Quick reports, as follows, the testimony of Frank Kleinheinz, sheep husbandman in the University of Wisconsin:

"I know positively that many farmers sold off their sheep on account of dogs, and that the fear of this injury to sheep has discouraged so many farmers that we would have at least fifty per cent more sheep in the State of Wisconsin to-day if it were not for this fact. And it is almost too sad for me to say that at farmers' meetings where I have been called upon to talk about sheep-raising in Wisconsin some of the oldest farmers have got up and told me that there is no use talking sheep in their locality—not because the farmers were not aware of the profits derived from sheep on the farm, but because they could not afford to raise sheep for dogs to feed on. I often feel very much discouraged and disheartened over the dog problem in our State. Last winter I worked at our legislative session day and night to get a law passed. My bill was passed in the assembly and Senate, but unfortunately was called up for reconsideration and killed. May the Lord spare me, so I can get into the fight again."

Mr. Quick adds in conclusion: "Almost all normal people are fond of dogs. The man or woman who will defend the present conditions of things in the world of dogs and sheep, convicts himself of being a dog worshiper whose proper time for living would have been in Egypt when the dog god Anubis was worshipped. There are sportsmen and ignorant dog lovers in the country who have been up to this day more influential with legislators than farmers have ever been, and who have insisted that the dog god Anubis must be worshipped every year in the sacrifice of thousands of sheep killed by dogs, of hundreds of thousands ruined by their worrying and persecution, and of millions which would be bred if the reign of the dog could be broken."

L. & N. SETS PACE FOR LOWER RAILROAD FARES

Anent the voluntary reduction in railroad fares made by the L. & N. system the Owensboro Messenger says:

"The L. & N. has set the pace for lower railroad fares in Kentucky, having announced months ago it would inaugurate a two-and-one-half-cent rate May 1, even before the Legislature passed an act requiring this. This rate will apply upon all L. & N. lines except branches less than fifty miles long. Whether the legislative act proves valid or not, the other railroad lines in Kentucky will have to meet the L. & N. rates at competitive points. Indeed, the two-cent passenger fare laws in Indiana and Ohio have compelled the Ohio river lines, from Evansville to Louisville, Cincinnati and Ashland, to make a two-cent rate to all competitive points. The passenger fare between Owensboro and Louisville, for instance, has been for years less than two and one-half cents a mile."

GOVERNOR'S BOLD CLAIM IS QUICKLY EXPOSED

In his statement telegraphed to the World that "the Colorado National Guard is composed almost exclusively of young professional and business men, some of them sons of the best families in the State," Gov. Ammons asks that judgment regarding the situation in Colorado be reserved until the truth can be learned from official investigations.

It was not necessary to withhold judgment very long, for in the same issue Edwin F. Carson, Captain of one of Gov. Ammons' National Guard companies which was largely responsible for the slaughter at Ludlow, entered a formal confession. Of 126 men under his command, he says 30 were mine guards—that is, gunmen—and 70 were clerks, pit bosses, engineers and others in the employ of the mining companies. This "National Guard Company" never was regularly mustered into the State service, never elected any officers, never had a drill and never was paid by anybody but the mine bosses.

Are the first families of Colorado all on the pay-rolls of the mining corporations?—[New York World.]

ROOSEVELT RECOVERING FROM SERIOUS INJURIES

Para, Brazil, May 8.—Col. Roosevelt, during his exploration trip through the wilds of Brazil, lost over fifty-five pounds in weight. He was still very weak to-day, but his condition was better and he is recovering from the abscess on his leg from which he suffered after bruising himself while working on a canoe in the rapids of the River Duvida.

The Colonel again expressed his enthusiasm over the beauty and richness of the regions through which the expedition passed.

It is his intention to deliver a lecture before the Royal Geographical Society in London when, it is said, he will controvert the accuracy of some of the affirmations of A. Henry Savage Landor, the British explorer. In regard to the interior of Brazil which was traversed by Mr. Landor in 1910-12.

KENTUCKY CROPS OF BUMPER KIND

Promised By Commissioner This Year.

ALL ARE IN FINE CONDITION

To Make Heavy Yields For Farmers—Live Stock Wintered Well.

PRACTICING DEEP PLOWING

Frankfort, Ky., May 14.—The first crop report for 1914, which has been prepared by Commissioner of Agriculture Newman, indicates that there will be bumper crops this year. Never before in the history of the State is the outlook at the beginning of the season as flattering as this year.

The wheat acreage of last fall is given at 95 per cent, and practically none of this was plowed up this spring. Ninety-seven per cent, of the original sowing was left standing May 1. The condition of this large acreage is 99 per cent. This would indicate an unusually large yield of wheat.

The original acreage of rye sown last fall was 95 per cent. Rye is used more as a cover crop than wheat, a large per cent, of which is plowed up in the spring for corn and oats. For the last few years rye has proved a more profitable crop than wheat per acre, and it is no surprise to find that 82 per cent, of the original acreage is left standing May 1, while only 82 per cent, of the barley crop is left standing. The amount of barley originally sown was 77 per cent, and the condition of both rye and barley is given at 98 per cent.

The corn acreage planted is 91 per cent, while 76 per cent, of the plowing intended for corn was done May 1. Planting is now in full swing, with the conditions favorable. Deep plowing has been practiced this year more than ever before, and favorable weather for the next few weeks will insure a large acreage of corn in a first-class seed bed. The oats acreage planned is given at 89 per cent, with 80 per cent, of it sown May 1.

While the dark tobacco crop planted is only given at 79 per cent, the condition of plant beds is given at 96 per cent. The acreage planted of burley is given at 81 per cent, with the condition of plant beds 91 per cent. There is some complaint of insects and cut-worms inquiring the tobacco beds.

The pastures are in unusually good condition. The condition of blue-grass is given at 93 per cent, with every promise of a large crop of blue-grass seed; clover is given at 85 per cent, alfalfa at 93 per cent, and orchard grass at 92 per cent.

The thirty-one foreign companies wrote $88,895,216.21, collected $1,136,477.09 and paid out in losses $511,516.48. HE BET ON THE RIGHT HORSE ACCIDENTALLY

A man in the stand on Wednesday gave his son $2 and instructed him to go to the betting ring and buy a ticket on a filly named Kilcrea in the fifth race. The young man, confused by the noise of the ring and the excitement just before post time, in some unknown manner, bought a ticket on another horse and took it back to his father. When the father looked at the ticket and saw that it was not on the right horse he simply tore up the grand stand. There was nothing that he could think of that was too mean to say to his unfortunate offspring. All through the race he kept up the same tune until the winner flashed past and Cliff Maid's number was displayed opposite the stand. Then he looked at his ticket and said: "Here son, take this ticket down and cash it. When it comes to knowing horse flesh, nobody can beat your old daddy." The ticket paid $98.90 on $2.—[Lexington Leader.]

Entered at the Hartford post-office

We are authorized to announce
HON. BEN JOHNSON,

Of Bardonia, for re-election to Congress from the Fourth Congressional District of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

It's hardly necessary to warn you that swatting time is here. You'll be reminded of it in other ways.

At last it will probably be found that the best mediators in that Mexican trouble are our 12-inch guns and brave American soldiers in action.

There were big demonstrations in several places in this country last week at the funerals and burials of the brave American boys who fell at Vera Cruz, when Uncle Sam first set hostile foot on Mexican soil. It was all right and proper, yet pitiful that these worthy lives should be sacrificed. But how many brave American men of other wars yet rest in unidentified graves!

The Morgantown Republican, in commenting on the Senatorial race in Kentucky, says: "It looks now like Beckham will win out." Closing this same paragraph, the Republican says: "If we were a Democrat, Mr. Creary would be our choice for U. S. Senator." Wonder if the editor of the Republican is used to picking out a man whom, according to his own estimation, he does not think can win, when he goes to vote?

Billy Sunday, the noted revivalist, has written several ministers of Louisville that he will "consider" a proposal to come to that city and conduct a series of meetings provided that there is a "genuine demand" for him. Most people have an idea what Billy Sunday considers a "genuine demand" or guarantee. The Greatest Preacher who ever preached on this earth never sent ahead to inquire if there was a "genuine demand" for him in a certain place. He went and preached. Billy Sunday, however, seems to be a different kind of preacher.

Gen. Villa begs Uncle Sam to raise the embargo on arms and ammunition and let him buy all the killing material he wants. He says this is the only way to conquer Huerta and restore peace. But there is no real assurance that peace in Mexico would follow even if Villa should dethrone Huerta. There is always an insurrection in Mexico of some kind. The leaders of these embroglings are born and bred fighters—war of some kind is as meat and bread to them. Villa, like the others, is full of deceit. Peace at the hands of any Mexican ruler is a vague possibility.

President Wilson has many critics these days about the Mexican trouble. These know-it-alls have been on the job ever since his inauguration, for that matter, but they are not even satisfied when he does what they say he should do. As a general thing they are made up of the narrow-minded, politically prejudiced and semi-ignorant class who have not sufficient reach of knowledge to enable them to conceive of the many angles and deep significance of the Mexican matter, and the stupendousness of the problem. Whenever you hear some wild-eyed fellow calling Wilson to time, just imagine if you can how HE would look in the President's chair.

A news item says the three large insane asylums of Kentucky are crowded to the limit and adds: "It is said that the counties are emptying their almshouses of harmless, weak-minded people into the asylums, victims of the drug and liquor habits are declared insane and sent there, and the increase is greater than the number of those restored and sent home and those who die." It is an open secret that this has been the case for a number of years. The asylums constitute a big dumping-ground for poor, unfortunate humanity, whether insane or not. Kentucky's lunacy laws are too loose. They should be amended or the juries be more careful. The present status is the State's flaming disgrace.

SENATOR BRADLEY WILL NOT ENTER THE PRIMARY

Washington, May 14.—William O'Connell Bradley, the senior United States Senator from Kentucky, will retire to private life at the end of his present term, March 4, 1915. He made his long expected announcement to that effect today. He said he would not enter the August Senatorial primary. The Senator yesterday returned from a visit to Louisville and Frankfort, in which cities he held a series of conferences concerning his future political activities. Ill health and inability to bear the hardships of a campaign compelled him to announce he won't be a candidate.

When Senator Bradley was hastening toward a street car late this afternoon, he tripped and fell heavily, breaking two fingers and his spectacles cutting a gash over his left eye. The accident happened just outside the Senate office building, and Mr. Bradley, assisted by Miss Lane, returned to his office, where his finger bones were set and his eye dressed.

MEMORIAL DAY.

"A land without ruins is a land without memories; a land without memories is a land without history; a land that wears a laurel crown may be fair to see, but twine a few sad leaves around the brow of any land, and, be that land barren, beautiful, and bleak, it becomes lovely in its consecrated coronet of sorrow, and it wins the sympathy of the heart and history. Crowns of roses fade; crowns of thorns endure."

"Calvaries and crucifixions take the deepest hold upon humanity. The triumphs of might are transient; they pass and are forgotten; the sufferings of right are graven deepest on the chronicles of nations."

AN ELOQUENT TRIBUTE TO PRESIDENT WILSON

How well he seems to have managed it—this whole sordid business of going to war; how fair he has been; how patient, how dignified, how infinitely gentle and kind. No bluster, no threats, no snicker of anticipation; no kicking of the nation's chops—just a simple-minded, brave, soft-hearted, hard-headed man. It is sad enough to go into war of any kind at any time; but it is less sad to go knowing that every honorable means has been taken to keep away from war. And this consolation President Wilson has given us by his wise, forbearing, Christian attitude before the provocation of a foe mad and desperate and foolish. The good God, who knows all and watches over all, and sees all, and directs all, was in our hearts deeper than we knew when as a nation we chose this great, serene soul to lead us.

WAS FOUND DEAD IN BED AT OWENSBORO

Well Known Ohio County Citizen a Victim Of Heart Trouble.

The Owensboro-Inquirer of Monday says:

Henry Taylor, a well known citizen of Beaver Dam, was found dead in bed about 11 o'clock this morning in his room at the boarding house of Mrs. Tom May, corner Fifth and Frederick streets. There was no evidence of any struggle. The man evidently died of heart disease.

Mr. Taylor was a man with the best of habits. He had been in Owensboro for about a month and had come here to locate permanently in this city. He was boarding with Mrs. May and was on a deal to purchase a one-half interest in her boarding house.

Mr. Taylor has always been in good health, and was laughing and talking with the boarders until nearly 11 o'clock Sunday night, when he went up stairs to retire for the evening. He had been in the habit of getting up at the call of the 6 o'clock breakfast bell, but failed to answer this morning. Mrs. May concluded that he wished to sleep and dismissed the matter until 8 o'clock, when she sent her daughter to knock on the door. No response was made, and about 11 o'clock J. P. Davis, one of the boarders, went up to Taylor's room and, failing to receive answer to his knock, climbed upon a chair and looking over the transom saw that he was dead. The matter was referred to the police department, and Taylor was removed to the W. T. Brown undertaking establishment.

Coroner Harl will hold an inquest over the body at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Editorial Note.—The deceased, until very recently, lived in the Liberty neighborhood, a few miles east of Beaver Dam. His wife died a number of years ago. His father, John W. Taylor, still lives at the old home place above stated, as do his two brothers, Burch and Horace Taylor. Another brother, Mr. Pen Taylor, lives here at Hartford. Two sisters also survive—Mrs. W. P. Leach, of Sanderfur's Crossing, and Mrs. Lela Stevens, of Liberty. He leaves three children—Mr. Owen Taylor, of Illinois, Mrs. Iva Taylor Hammons, of near Horton, this county, and Miss Belle Taylor, living with a relative near Liberty. His remains were interred at Liberty cemetery yesterday afternoon. He had long been a member of the Methodist church, and was one of Ohio county's best and most upright citizens.

A COLLECTOR EXPLAINS HOW VILLA PAID A BILL

"We recently sold a waterworks motor to General Villa," John Gibson, the Philadelphia manager of Westinghouse, told me yesterday. "Our people at El Paso were to deliver the machinery, but told the General they needed the cash in advance."
"That will be all right," replied the General. "I'll get it."
And he did. Huerta's arch-enemy sent a band of his soldiers through the gambling district of a Mexican town on the border and collected the price of the motor—$500 in silver. A couple of soldiers brought the money in a wheelbarrow to the Westinghouse office.—[Philadelphia Ledger.]

COL. ROOSEVELT'S RIVER IS SIMPLY REAL STUFF

We refuse to permit any millions Britisher, no matter what his scientific reputation may be, to shake our faith in Col. Roosevelt's geographical veracity.

The Colonel is a little weak on the Constitution and the courts and the Sherman Anti-Trust law and treaty obligations and the Morgan corporation interests and such-like, but he is great on bugs and birds and lions and elephants and bobcats and diddies and grizzly bears and rivers and hills and trees and the Ten Commandments and similar phenomena of nature.

If the Colonel says the river is a thousand miles long, it's a thousand miles long. We wouldn't knock off an inch to avoid a war. If any cautious critic claims that such a river in such a place must run up hill in spots and cross other rivers, let it go at that. Maybe it does for all we know. Anyway, the Colonel has been there and seen the river and got boils and been ducked in the rapids and lost his dog and fallen off 35 pounds in weight, and can produce witnesses. That is more than the other side has offered to do.

The Colonel is not a nature fakir, no matter how much of a political fakir he may be. What he says and writes about government and politics should always be taken with a few grains of salt; but what he says and writes about his hunting and exploring expeditions has generally withstood the acid test. As a naturalist, the Colonel never needs anybody to underwrite his statements. It is only in politics that he requires a Loeb.—[New York World.]

Mrs. Winnie Bell Dead.

Mrs. Winnie Bell, age 24 years, died of tuberculosis at 8:45 o'clock Monday morning at her home in Buford. She had been very low for some time. Her death was expected.

Mrs. Bell, before her marriage, was Miss Winnie Humphrey. She is survived by her husband and by her mother, who lives near Utica.

The funeral services were conducted from the Mt. Carmel church yesterday morning at 11 o'clock by Rev. Morris Lashbrook, pastor of that church. Interment took place in the church cemetery.

Fine Educational Record.

The school census for District 82 in Ohio county, including Rockport, was taken for the year 1914.

There were 183 children in the district, and not one who was ten years old or over but what could read and write. This is quite an improvement over other years' reports.

We naturally are proud of this fact, and pleased to know that parents and teachers are so deeply interested in the education of the rising generation.

WELL WISHER.

LIFE AFTER DEATH AND ITS HUMAN INSPIRATION

If there be no continued life, what a strange aspect is cast thereby on the obligation that an honest man feels to tell the truth at all costs! How foolish seems the honesty of a bankrupt whom a lie might have kept rich! What a mistake is the voluntary death for another's sake of the seaman or patriot who might have saved himself, or the martyr's death at the stake, in order to be loyal to truth, faith or conscience!

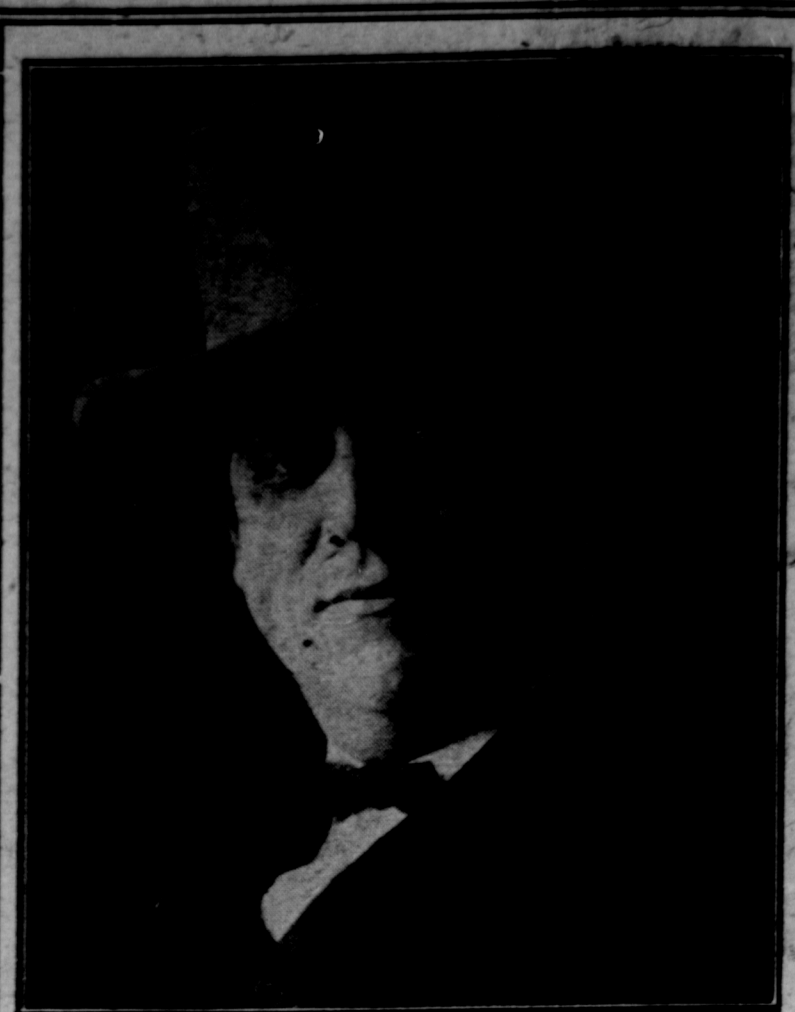

If a true man has no deathless claims on the eternal, then neither his honor nor his duty would demand any such acts of self-sacrifice. Jesus and Paul, Savonarola and Huss and Lincoln—what were they, on the materialistic theory, but fools who, under the hallucination of duty, squandered the one life granted to our poor forms of clay? Unless we are ready to accept as the models of wise and true men those who brazenly throw overboard all inconvenient scruples about integrity, justice, patriotism and self-denying mercy, we must accept these great commanding ideals as pointing to a real above sense and beyond the veil of death; a real world whose steady gravitation it is that draws the human heart, at whatever fleshly cost, to obey its laws.—[James Thompson Bixby, Ph. D., in Harper's Magazine.]

YOUNG MAN WAS SHOT WHILE ROBBING STORE

Merchant At Beaver Dam Found Robber In His Store At Midnight.

A deplorable affair occurred at Beaver Dam last Thursday night when E. J. Tilford, who conducts a mercantile establishment there, shot and dangerously wounded William Peters, whom Tilford alleges he caught in his store in the act of robbery. Recently Mr. Tilford's place was entered and the cash register robbed of $29. No clue was found to the perpetrators, and Mr. Tilford decided to watch the matter, believing that sooner or later he would learn the identity of the robbers.

The shooting occurred near midnight and a double-barrel shotgun and No. 6 shot were used. Only one barrel was fired, however. Tilford was just preparing to retire when he heard somebody tampering with the door. The noise soon stopped and Tilford concluded it was a false alarm, when he heard the click of his cash register. He was in a little bedroom which opens into his store, at the time. Tilford reached for his shotgun as he heard the robber leave the cash register and approach the door. The room was completely dark and he fired in the direction of the stealthy steps, not knowing who the robber was.

Residents of the neighborhood were aroused by the shot and an investigation was made. Young Peters was found outside, badly wounded. The shot had taken effect in his right shoulder and breast. Tilford says he had $21 in his cash register before it was robbed, and $18 was found on Peters. There were also several dollars in change scattered about as if in flight.

Tilford came to Hartford and surrendered himself to Sheriff Keown. He waived examining trial and his bond was placed at $200, pending the outcome of the condition of Peters. The bond was quickly made.

Tilford says he had no idea of the identity of the robber and he did not fire to kill. This is evidenced by the fact that only one barrel of the gun was used and the shot were small. Nobody blames Tilford for protecting his property. At latest account young Peters is getting along all right and his recovery seems assured. He is about 22 years old.

EXECUTION OF PRIVATE PARKS A BRUTAL DEED

Richard Harding Davis Tells a Graphic Story—Died Like a Man.

(By Richard Harding Davis.)
Vera Cruz, May 14.—Five days ago Private Samuel Parks, while of unsound mind, rode a horse belonging to Col. Taggart into the enemy's lines and did not return. Various explanations were given of his disappearance. I was at that time on my way to Mexico City and did not know the man was missing, but the story told me in Mexico City makes me believe I can explain why Parks has not returned. What follows was told me by a man who got it from the last man who saw Parks alive. For their own safety I cannot give the names of my informants, but they are known to me, and I can vouch for their responsibility.

At Tembladora, three miles outside our lines, Parks was seen by five Mexican regulars. They were in uniform and mounted. From behind, one of the Mexicans struck Parks at the base of the spine with the butt of his rifle. Parks fell from his horse and was bound and then either driven or forced to walk to Tejeria, where a major, twenty soldiers and several foreigners were waiting for a train to Mexico City. One of these is my informant. The Major placed Parks, still bound, on the floor of a hut and set a guard at the door. He told my informant that he intended shooting Parks at sunrise. My informant says he tried to dissuade the Major, which angered him, and he threatened my informant, which he gives as the reason why he did not talk with Parks, but in passing the door of the hut he told Parks he was to die. The second time my informant passed the door Parks quickly said:

"I am Samuel Parks."
The third time he passed Parks was able to tell the Colonel of the Twenty-eighth Infantry. At daybreak the Major beckoned Parks out and with a squad led him to the woods near the station. My informant says that Parks smiled and looked meaningfully at him, as though to remind him to deliver the message. He says the bearing of Parks was so brave that he could not bear to see him die and remained at the hut. The other foreigners followed, and a few minutes he heard the volley. Foreigners, returning told him Parks was killed, dying instantly and that the Mexicans, to conceal his body, were pouring kerosene on it and preparing to cremate it. My informants added that the horse ridden by Parks was sent by an orderly to Gen. Maas. This is set down as told me from the knowledge of my informant. I believe it is true.

Quick Shifts These Days.
"Why are you going around in that horrible coat?"
"My wife needs a new gown."
"You shouldn't spend all your money on her."
"Well, if she doesn't get that new gown, I'm afraid she'll get a new husband."

FOREIGN WORK OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The fifty-third annual report of the executive committee of foreign missions of the Presbyterian church in the U. S. contains many facts of thrilling interest concerning the advancement of their work. The report says:

"The total number of additions by baptism reported from all our fields is 3,517, which is 332 more than the number reported last year, and is an average of a little more than thirty-three to each ordained missionary. Considering the disturbed political conditions that have so hindered the work in some of our fields, we regard this as a very remarkable showing for the year.

"The number of baptisms reported for the year in Africa is 1,328, which is an increase of 499 over the number received last year, and of 367 over the largest number received in any previous year. During the first eleven years of our work in Africa, the number of communing members received into the church was 1,181, which is only 253 more than the number received in 1913. The total number of communing members enrolled is now 10,360, and the number of catechumens reported is 67,500."

FORTUNE FROM WASTE COLLECTED EACH YEAR

A Revenue of $700,000,000 Gotten From Things Once Thrown Away.

At the first annual banquet of the National Association of Waste Material Dealers, held in New York City this week, it was brought out that by collecting and utilizing waste products the members of the association transact an annual business of $700,000,000.

The utilization of cottonseed oil and of cotton seed, until very recent years a mere waste product of the cotton crop, it was pointed out, is now valued in the United States alone at $50,000,000 a year. Curtis Guild, ex-Ambassador to Russia, noted that we are exporting sisal strings to Europe to be turned into toothbrushes; that we are using the worn-out painter's brush, soaked with white lead, by cleansing and using the worn bristles to provide inexpensive and durable scrubbing brushes, and exporting American cotton stockings to Europe, where they are unraveled and used as a cheap packing in the manufacture of graphophones and electrical machinery, while the patched and darned European stockings, not having any other use, are exported from Europe to this country for their only possible use as paper stock.

The exports and imports of waste material are not yet thoroughly reported by the department, and even the commencement of their appearance in the official publications of the United States Government dates back but a few years. For the calendar year 1913 we exported cotton rags to the value of over $500,000, paper stock other than cotton rags to the value of over $800,000, woolen rags to the value of $1,000,000, scrap iron to the value of $1,200,000, old and reclaimed rubber to the value of $1,600,000, and scrap brass to the value of over $2,000,000. The figures of the imports of waste materials from foreign countries are even more striking. In the year 1913 we imported scrap iron to the value of $500,000, old copper to the value of $1,000,000, silk waste to the value of $3,000,000, old rubber to the value of more than $3,000,000, cotton rags to the value of $3,000,000, and other paper stock which was neither cotton rags nor wood pulp to the value of nearly $5,000,000.—[Bradstreet's.]

WHY SO MANY MEN ARE AGAINST WOMAN SUFFRAGE

In the June Woman's Home Companion Temple Bailey writes a woman's suffrage story entitled "An Army with Banners," in which one of her characters makes the following comment:

"I think that deep down in his heart a man likes to believe that he's got a woman in the nest he has made for her, safe and warm, and he likes to keep her there—just for himself. But times change, and perhaps the world needs women. And if it does, we men have got to stop being selfish."

GRAND JURY GETS AFTER THE "POSSUM HUNTERS" In Muhlenberg County and Eleven Alleged Offenders Are Indicted.

Greenville, Ky., May 14.—The Muhlenberg Circuit Court adjourned after having been in session three weeks and two days. A number of civil cases were disposed of, and others were submitted and taken under advisement by the court. The following persons have been sentenced to serve terms in the penitentiary or House of Reform: Jack Dalton, forgery, 1 to 5 years; Claude Johnson, forgery, 2 to 10 years; Orville Phelps, grand larceny, 1 to 5 years; Bud Dennison, manslaughter, 2 to 21 years; John Heath, manslaughter, 2 to 21 years; Chris Myers, malicious shooting, 1 to 5 years.

The grand jury returned forty-two indictments, eleven of which were against the so-called "Possum Hunters," who are charged with the crime of banding and confederating together for the purpose of intimidating other persons. The names of those indicted are as follows:

Louis Roark, Elmer Hays, Tom Jackson, Ben Underwood, Floyd Grundy, Arthur Richardson, Henry Allen, Harry Paxton, Sam Snyder, Buck Perry and Jack Thomas.

Floyd Grundy is the person whom the Commonwealth had summoned before the grand jury, and who was committed to jail for three days because he refused to answer questions put to him by the grand jury. He finally talked, and was released.

There have been no further acts of violence by the so-called "Possum Hunters," and none is anticipated. Most of the persons indicted have been arrested and are making bonds for their appearance to answer the indictments at the next September term of the court.

Deafness Cannot be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

PRAISEWORTHY EFFORT INAUGURATED BY BOYS

Referring to the work of the boys' corn clubs in Kentucky and the results obtained, the Paducah Sun says:

"Fourteen boy members of corn clubs in Kentucky in the season of 1913 raised over 75 bushels of corn to the acre. Of this number the lowest raised a fraction over the required 75 and the highest attained the unusual mark of 131.5 bushels to the acre. No more striking proof could be asked for the scientific teaching of agriculture. These boys are typical of the new era of Kentucky farm life.

"Farmers of the older generation will do well to observe these youths. Age may learn while it has strength to labor on, and the true road to success is the utilization of every power at hand for the best possible results. The Kentucky corn clubs have done a great work—we men better say begun it, for the end is far off."

JUST A WORD TO THE WISE SHOULD BE SUFFICIENT

Referring to the report that several of the present State officials will be contestants for other offices next year, the Bowling Green Messenger says editorially:

Democratic State officeholders are preparing to make a great mistake by switching around and running for other offices, and thus attempting too perpetuate themselves in power for another term.

The chief danger in this plan of swapping offices may not come in the primaries, but in the general election following. We got by with it fairly well in 1903, when the Democratic party was in the full swing of success, but the same trick tried over again in 1907 resulted in a disastrous failure and the turning over of the State to the Republicans for four years.

The cohesiveness of the Republican party is proverbial. Let the Republican and Progressive parties get together, and Kentucky is a politically debatable State. This would be especially true if the idea should permeate the State that a ring at Frankfort was trying to control the affairs of the party.

This warning is thrown out thus early and before the alleged slate has been made up, in order that the press and people of the State can take it up for discussion. We believe we know the temper of the people well enough to know that they will resent any effort at ring rule or gang domination. The officials would do well to step down and out at the close of their present terms and let the boys in the trenches have a chance.

So Will We.

As there are a number who are behind in their subscription to The Herald, we will make this offer: All those who are in arrears one year or more who will come forward and pay up at once, we will give a first-class obituary notice gratis in case it kills them.—[Ottawa County (Ohio) Herald.]

As It Seemed To Him.

It was a very youthful class in physiology.

"Why," asked the teacher, "is it best to eat soup when one is very hungry?"

The pupils stared at her blankly. Then Jamie enlightened them from the depths of his experience.

"You can get it down, faster," he announced.—[The Delineator.]

Hand In Hand.

"I tell you, Pat, my boy," the big man of the town confided laying a paring knife hard on the young Irishman's shoulder, "I wish I had your tongue."

"Sure, sor," grinned Pat, "but it would do you no good without me brains"—[May Woman's Home Companion.]

A Head For Business.

"Earlie, haven't I told you time and time again not to play with that bad little Weeks boy?"

"Yes, ma. I was only playing with him long enough to win his aggie."

FEEBLE OLD PEOPLE

Are Told How to Regain Strength and Vigor.

As one grows old the waste of the system becomes more rapid than repair, the organs act more slowly and less effectively than in youth, the circulation is poor, the blood thin and digestion weak.

Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil is the ideal strengthener and body-builder for old folks, for it contains the very elements needed to rebuild wasting tissues and replace weakness with strength. Vinol also fortifies the system against colds and thus prevents pneumonia.

Mrs. Mary Ivey, of Columbus, Ga., says: "If people only knew the good Vinol does old people, I am sure you would be unable to supply the demand. I never took anything before that did me so much good as Vinol. It is the finest tonic and strength creator I ever used in my life."

If Vinol fails to build up the feeble, old people, and create strength we will return your money.

"Thank goodness the time has passed for freak styles in women's clothes and the day of sane fashions has returned. After next fall men will not be ashamed to see their wives dressed in the height of the season's fashion."

SMALLEST COIN IN THE WORLD—ITS REAL VALUE

Talk of "small change" recalls the smallest coin in the world. It circulates in the Malay Peninsula, is simply a thin wafer made from the resinous juice of a tree and has current value of 1-10,000th of a penny. In the southern parts of Russia the peasants use a coin of such small value that a quarter of a million of them are worth no more than 5 shillings. The old Japanese mouseng was worth 1,224th of an English penny. In Portugal the reis is the lowest standard of value, but no 1 reis pieces are coined. A 3-reis piece is equivalent to 12-100ths of our penny.—[London Chronicle.]

LIFE MUST CONFORM TO A REGULAR TIME TABLE

Peculiar Situation of Little Chicago Girl Whose Parents Are Divorced.

Chicago, May 11.—Miss Catherine Condict has begun to order her life to conform to a time table as inflexible and almost as complicated as those by which the railroads run their trains.

The time table, devised by Judge O'Connor, went into effect when Catherine's mother, Mrs. Charlotte Condict, was granted a divorce from Wallace R. Condict, wealthy real estate dealer. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon, according to schedule, a motor car stopped in front of Mrs. Condict's residence at 2219 Lincoln street, Evanston.

Catherine's father was in the tonneau, and he opened his arms to her. That was hint enough. Six hours later, to the minute—also according to schedule—the same machine stopped in front of the same house. Catherine kissed her father goodbye and went indoors.

"Remember—Thursday!" he called after her.

Before she went to bed Catherine, who is thirteen, had her time table by heart and for reference had prepared a memorandum something like this:

With Mamma—Monday, Wednesday, Friday, every other Sunday, every other Saturday, every night, half summer, Easter or Christmas.

With Daddy—Tuesday afternoon, Thursday afternoon, every other Saturday (afternoon), every other Sunday, half summer, Easter or Christmas.

The time table was arranged because Catherine, when asked whether she preferred to live with her father or her mother, emphatically replied: "Both!"

The little girl admitted that if she had to take a definite choice she would just a little rather be with her father, because he took her motoring and bought much candy for her.

Because of the provision in the will of her mother-in-law that she receive for life the income on property valued at $51,000, no alimony was awarded to Mrs. Condict.

AGREEMENT REACHED BY OPERATORS AND MINERS

Three Changes Made In Old Contract—Long Conference Is Held.

The Louisville Courier-Journal of Friday says:

Following conferences that covered a period of practically two months, the mine operators and nine workers of Western Kentucky yesterday reached an agreement regarding a wage scale and working conditions that will prevail during the next two years, dating from April 1 last, when the life of the old contract expired.

The new contract differs slightly from the old one, there being three changes. One of these gives to mule drivers ten cents more a day than previously, and requires the operators to pay for the harness, paid for heretofore by the drivers. Another change gives to the operators the right to change the method of mining from "run of the mine" to "screened coal" at any time, except during the course of a working day, and a third change gives to the operators the right to change the method of cutting from the "ton" to the "square foot," upon a day's notice.

But for the fact that the operators and workers were unable to agree on the three points mentioned, a contract would have been entered into long before this. During the joint conference of operators and workers Wednesday a subcommittee was named to deal with the points at issue. Those representing the operators on this committee were W. G. Duncan, M. M. Bardwell and D. Stewart Miller. The workers were represented by L. B. Walker, George Baker and J. T. Main.

It was 10 o'clock yesterday morning when the subcommittee reported to the joint conference that it had reached an agreement and this agreement was speedily ratified by the joint body. The mine workers will hold a meeting at Central City Monday for the purpose of accepting or rejecting the agreement, but it is said that acceptance on their part is almost assured, as it is customary for the miners, as a whole, to ratify the action of those named by them to confer with the operators.

Health a Factor in Success.

The largest factor contributing to a man's success is undoubtedly health. It has been observed that a man is seldom sick when his bowels are regular—he is never well when they are constipated. For constipation you will find nothing quite so good as Chamberlain's Tablets. They not only move the bowels but improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion. Sold by all dealers. Is a farmers' telephone system and furnishes a complete system whereby farmers can keep posted as to pools and prices on farm products in neighborhoods of this (Ohio) and adjoining counties, though it is just as necessary for the business and professional man to use it also, as they cannot afford to be out of touch with the man on the farm, and they have shown their sympathy with the farmers organization by patronizing and becoming a part of this great system with exchanges at the following points in Ohio county:

Hartford, (Main office, Beaver Dam), McHenry, Centertown, Rockport, Prentiss, Balzeton, Neafus, Horse Branch, Dundee, Narrows and Pattiesville, and an exchange at Paradise, Muhlenberg county. WOULD SAVE VETERANS FROM PENSION "SHIVERS" Frankfort Banker Offers To Redeem At Face Value, May Issue Warrants.

Frankfort, Ky., May 16.—Because he wishes to save his old comrades in arms from the hands of pension "shavers," C. E. Hodge, president of the State National Bank of Frankfort, has volunteered to redeem at their face value the May issue of Confederate pension warrants, which will be sent out in a few days by State Treasurer Thomas S. Rhea. The issue aggregates more than $100,000. The quarterly distribution of $30 will be paid in checks from the State Treasury; but those who have been added to the pension list since the February distribution will draw back pay at the rate of $10 per month from the date of their application, some of them drawing pay from July, 1912, when the law went into effect. Warrants will be issued to them.

The pension warrants will be mailed to the pensioners between May 15 and 20, accompanying each warrant will be instructions to the pensioner to present the warrant at his local bank and inform the bankers that the State National Bank at Frankfort will take the warrant at its face value. In this way the pensioners will receive the full amount of their pensions at once by presenting them at their local banks.

The response of Col. Hoge to Treasurer Rhea's request for someone to cash the warrants was prompted by sentiment. Col. Hoge served throughout the war with Braxton's artillery in the Army of Northern Virginia and was one of the ragged band that surrendered at Appomattox courthouse. He has prospered since the war, and when the case was laid before him he accepted the opportunity to do something for his comrades in arms with whom fortune has dealt less kindly.

State Treasurer Rhea said he realizes that it is no slight matter for a bank to come forward with more than $100,000 in a lump to take up these warrants, but he is determined to frustrate the operations of pension "shavers," who otherwise would do a fine business discounting pension warrants from 3 to 5 per cent. The late John C. C. Mayo, who was buried to-day, came to the rescue of the pensioners and took up the entire February distribution.

Too Many Lawyers.

At Madisonville, a few days ago Circuit Judge Gordon appointed all the lawyers at the bar to defend a man charged with felony. Some sixteen attorneys immediately got busy and the fellow had a most elaborate defense, but the jury gave him a penitentiary term. The funny part of it is that on previous trials for varied offenses the defendant had always elected to be his own attorney, and had been acquitted in every instance. The joke seems to be both on him and the legal fraternity of the Hopkins county bar.—Frankfort State Journal.

OLATON.

May 18.—This has been a fine week for planting corn. The farmers have taken advantage of it and many are done planting. Some corn has been plowed.

E. M. Hoover and Master Clarence went to Owensboro Monday, returning the same evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm Lyons returned Saturday from Owensboro, where they had been visiting relatives and friends for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Lyons and Master William went to Owensboro Saturday, returning Sunday evening.

The two Sunday Schools were well attended yesterday.

Miss Myrtle E. Canan is visiting her sister, Mrs. Duncan, at Davidson Station.

Dr. Hoover, Owensboro, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hoover, Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Ada Burkley and two children, of Sulphur Springs, visited her sister, Mrs. E. M. Hoover, Friday.

They seem to have considerable trouble at the Fallen Rock church by young men going there and disturbing religious worship during preaching hours. Why not put a stop to it? It would be very easily done if the members just had the backbone to take hold of it. That is what causes so much disturbance in public, because one waits for the other to make the start to enforce the law.

Give us good roads and peace at church.

BENNETT'S.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Daniel and children, Ricketts, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Daniel Sunday.

STOWAWAY WAS TAKEN IN CHARGE BY GIRL On Steamer Who Will Give Him Job in Father's Harness Factory.

New York, May 16.—When Miss Alice Brown, 26 years old and pretty, of Logansport, Ind., came down the gang plank of the steamship Uranium to-day her father, Josephus Brown, a wealthy harness manufacturer, who was at the Brooklyn pier to meet her, was surprised to see her have in tow a shabbily dressed young man of long hair and large "specs."

Miss Brown had found the young man a stowaway in her stateroom and, after hearing his romantic story, had paid his way over rather than let him work an unromantic passage.

The young woman introduced her stowaway as Willard Brown, 27 years old, of Louisville, Ky., a poet, whose output had failed to bring him the price of food and who was trying by hook or crook to get from Paris to Louisville.

"He has accepted my offer of a position in your harness factory," Miss Brown informed her father. The three drove off together in a taxicab.

Miss Brown, who has been studying art in Munich, went on board the Uranium at Rotterdam.

When she shoved her bag underneath her berth it struck something soft that gave a grunt. Out scambled a man, and Miss Brown recoiled a fright. But the stowaway begged her forgiveness and it was granted.
